CLEVELAND'S ENGLISH LITERATURE OF THE 19TH CENTURY.

New Edition.

E. C. & J. BIDDLE, No. 6 South Fifth street, Philadelphia, have recently published a new, stereotype edition of English Laterature of the Nineteenth Century, English Literature of the Nineteenth Century. On the plan of the author's "Compendium of English Literature," and supplementary to it. Designed for colleges and advanced classes in schools as wet as for private reading. By Charles D. Cleveland.

The "Compendium of English Literature," by Prof Cleveland, comprises blographical sketches and selections from the writings of English authors, from the fourteenth to the eighteenth century, chronologically arranged; together with copious Notes, explanatory, illustrative, &c. The volume now advertised, which is arranged on the same plan as the "Compendium," comprises in its list of authors such as flourished in the eighteenth century, but died in the present; together with those strictly of the nineteenth century, whether living or dead.

The present edition of "English Literature of the Ninsteenth Century" contains blographical sketches and selections from the writings of one hundred and six authors, the names of twenty-seven of whom did not appear in the table of contents of the former edition; together with many improvements throughout the volume.

Prof C.'s two volumes of English Literature are the volume.

Prof. C.'s two volumes of English Literature are now extensively used as text-books in colleges, academies, and the higher class of seminaries, throughout the United States. The following opinions relative to "English Literature of the Nineteenth Contury," are selected from a large number equally commenda-are selected from a large number equally commendatory of the work:

From Prof. Channey A. Goodrich, D. D., of Yole

"I consider Prof. Cleveland's 'English Literature of the Nineteenth Century' an appropriate sequel to his 'Compendium.' The author has shown the same just and delicate appreciation of literary excellence in this, as in the former volume; and, as it reaches down to our times, it will be still more interesting to a large portion of the public, and especially to the young. Few persons can understand what an amount of reading, thought, nice discrimination, and laborious cot densation of knowledge, are requisite to the production of such a work; and just in proportion as men toil more extensively in this field, will be the estimate they will put upon this result of the author's labors."

From George B. Emerson, Esq., of Boston.

Prom George B. Emerson, Esq., of Boston.

"I have examined your 'English Literature of the Nineteenth Century,' and I like it exceedingly It is extremely well and fairly done. The biographical notices are just and discriminating; and, while they are long enough to gratify the curiosity we have to know something of an author, they are so spirited as to awaken a desire to know more. The selections are admirable. I have adopted the work as a text book for my first class, every individual of which is now preparing, under its guidance, to give a fuller account of the writings of some one chosen author."

From Rev. B. P. Aydelott, D. D., of Cincianati.

"I have examined with much care, and still greater pleasure, and, I trust, not a little profit, your 'English Literature of the Nineteenth Century."

It is, I believe, the richest collection of gems in our language. There is nothing in it I would omit, and yet it is not too large for popular use. Considering the very brief limits to which you were obliged to confine yourself, I am surprised at the fullness and richness of your biographical details. Your most difficult and delicate task, however, was the critical judgment to be passed upon each author; and here I think you have been very happy—discriminating and just, and yet kind. * But I would feel that whatever I have said about the volume, however true, ought to be considered as of little worth, could I not add—as I cheerfully do—a strong testimony to its high moral tone and eminently Christian spirit. The general reader cannot fail to be interested, the student profited, the scholar delighted, and the man of piety pleased, with your 'English Literature of the Nineteenth Century."

For sale by the publishers, at Philiadelphis; by C. M. Saxton, New York; Phillips, Sampson, & Co., Boston; Cushings & Bailey, Baltimore; John B. Steel, New Orleans; H. W. Derby, Cincinnati; Jewett & Co., Cleveland; and by booksellers generally.

"Rollo on the Atlantic" is the first book of a series to be published under the general title of Rollo's Tour in Europe.

Extract from the Preface:

"The books are intended to be books of instruction, rather than of mere amusement; and, in perusing them, the reader may feel assured that all the information which they contain, not only in respect to the countries visited, and to the customs, usages, and modes of life that are described, but also in regard to the general character of the incidents and adventures that the young travellers meet with, is in most strict accordance with fact. The main design of the narrative is thus the communication of useful knowledge; and everything which they contain, except what is strictly personal, in relation to the actors in the story, may be depended upon as exactly and scrupulously true." THE BEST MAGAZINE.

THE BEST MAGAZINE. The Eclectic Magazine of Foreign Literature,

The Eclectic Magazine of Foreign Literature, IN literary merit and sterling worth, is without I question the best Magazine published. It is such, because it comprises, in moderate compass and convenient form, the excellences—the choicest articles—the cream, so to speak, of all the leading Foreign Quarterlies and Magazines, and the productions of their most gifted pens. In this respect, the Eclectic has a decided advantage over all other Magazines. Omitting articles of mere local interest and minor importance to the American reader, its pages offer to its patrons a large amount of literary wealth, of permanent value, at a small price.

The Eclectic is published in monthly numbers of 144 pages each, making three large volumes a year, and nearly 1,800 pages, richly embellished with 12 splendid portraits of distinguished persons or historical subjects. The price is $5 a year. The January number begins a new volume. Now is a good time to subscribe. Orders for the work are solicited. It will be sent promptly by mail to all who order it. Address

W. H. BIDWELL,

No. 120 Nassau street, New York.

Sets of the work, in 9 volumes, for the last three years, neatly bound, lottered, and numbered, may be had at the office of publication, and sent to any part of the country.

LIFE INSURANCE.

THE GIRARD LIFE INSURANCE, ANNUITY, and Trust Company, of Philadelphia—office No. 132 Chestnut street, (the first door east of the custom-house.) Capital, (paid up.) $300,000. Charter perpetual—continue to make insurances on lives on the most favorable terms.

They act as Executors, Trustees, and Guardians under last wills, and as Receivers and Assignees.

The capital heim paid up and invested, together with a large and constantly increasing reserved fund, offers a perfect security to the insured.

The premiums may be paid yearly, half yearly, or quarterly.

The premiums may be paid yearly, half yearly, or quarterly.

The Company add a Bonus periodically to the insurances for life. The first bonus, appropriated in December, 1844, and the second bonus in December, 1849, amount to an addition of $262.50 to every $1,000 insured under the oldest policies, making $1,262.50, which will be paid when it shall become a claim, instead of $1,000 originally insured; the next oldest amount to $1,237.50; the next in age to $1,212.50 for every $1,000; the others in the same proportion, according to the amount and time of standing; which additions make an average of mere than 60 per cent upon the premiums paid, without increasing the annual premium.

PROSPECTUS OF THE PROMIBITIONIST.

"If any State dooms the retail and internal traffic in ardent spirits injurious to its citizens, and calculated to produce idleness, vice, or debauchery, I see nothing in the Constitution of the United States to prevent it from regulating or restraining the traffic, or from prohibiting it altogether, if it thinks proper."

Chief Justice Taney.

O'N or before the 1st of January, 1854, the Executive Committee of the New York State Temperrance Society will issue the first number of a Monthly Temperance Journal, under the title of "The Promistrionist."

Its Size.—It will be printed on a double medium sheet, making eight quarto pages, of four columns to a page; and, excluding advertisements, each number will contain an amount of reading matter equal at least to that furnished by our larger-sized daily journals, or to that of an ordinary duodecime volume of 150 pages.

Vigorous enforcement of Prohibitory Laws when obtained.

Its Firld—Dealing with general principles, with arguments alike applicable to every community where the traffic exists and with facts illustrative of these arguments and principles, the paper will be National in its spirit, in its scope, in its purpose, and, we trust, it will be National in its circulation and influence. Such is our aim and expectation. We desire to see the Principle of Prohibition established in State after State, till it becomes the recognised policy of the Nation. It is our ambition to bear a part in this great work, and to this end The Prohibition sits is established, not as the organ of a society merely, but of a Great Reportant Movement.

Its Necessity—The existing Temperance Journals have little, if any, circulation outside of the Temperance Ranks. Their price almost necessarily restricts them to the friends of the cause. The Prohibitonist is designed for circulation (instead of tracts) among the indifferent and the hostile. For this purpose it is put at a price so low as to enable the friends of Temperance in every school district, by combined action and at an inconsiderable expense, to place a copy in each family that will consent to receive it.

I world. This Journal, which has herotofore been published monthly, commences its fifth year in January next, and thenceforward it will be published every two weeks—on every other Thursday; thereby giving more than twice as much matter, without any increase in price. Each number contains sixteen quarto pages, four of which are new music, consisting of glees, hymn tunes, chants, anthems, dedication and holyday pieces, and, in short, every variety of music adapted to purposes of religious worship, to public occasions, and to the home circle; all of which will be of a practical character, and such as can be sung by persons of ordinary musical attainments. In the editorial department of the Review are engaged (in addition to Mr. Cady, the former editor) gentlemen of the highest talent and ripest musical experience, among whom are George F. Root, William B. Bradbury, Thomas Hastings, and Lowell Mason; and its circle of correspondence, home and foreign, is complete. The Review will also be a regular medium for the announcement of new musical publications by all the leading publishing houses in the Union. The subscription list of this paper is now larger than that of any similar journal in the world, and the new arrangements, rendering it the cheapest as well as (it is hoped) the most valuable musical paper ever published, must largely increase its already unparalleled circulation.

Terms.—One dollar per annum, or six copies for five dollars in the usual form. Beside this, there will be an immense amount of musical news, essays, criticism, instruction, &c., all for only one dollar! Every one feeling a particle of interest in the cause of music will surely subscribe.

Specimen numbers sent on receipt of two letter postage stemps. Address, always post paid,

Although these works are distinguished by the political shades above indicated, yet but a small portion of their contents is devoted to political subjects. It is their literary character which gives them their chief value, and in that they stand confessedly far above all other journals of their class. Blackwood, still under the masterly guidance of Christopher North, main tains its ancient celebrity, and is at this time unusually attractive, from the serial works of Bulwer and other literary notables, written for that Magazine, and first appearing in its columns both in Great Britains and in the United States. Such works as "The Caxons" and "My New Novel," both by Bulwer; "My Peninsular Medal," "The Green Hand," and other serials, of which numerous rival editions are issued by the leading publishers in this country, have to be reprinted by those publishers from the pages of Blackwood, after it has been issued by Massra. Scott & Co. so that subscribers to the Reprint of that Magasine may always rely upon having the earliest reading of these fascinating tales.

UNRIVALLED ARRAY OF TALENT.

THE Proprietors of the POST, in again coming before the public, would return thanks for the geneorus patronage which has placed them far in advance of every other literary weekly in America; and as the only suitable return for such free and hearty support, their arrangements for 1854 have been made with a degree of liberality probably unequalled in the history of American newspaper literature. They have engaged, as contributors for the ensuing year, the following brilliant array of talent and genius:

Mrs. Southworth, Emerson Bennett, Mrs. Denison, Grace Greenwood, and Fanny Fern.

In the first paper of January next, we design commencing an Original Novelet, written expressly for our columns, entitled

THE BRIDE OF THE WILDERNESS, By EMERSON BRNNETT, author of "Viola," "Clara Moreland," "The Forged Will," etc.

This Novelet, by the popular author of "Clara Moreland," we design following by another, called THE STEP-MOTHER. UNRIVALLED ARRAY OF TALENT.

By EMMA D. R. N. SOUTHWORTH, author of "The Curse of Clifton," "The Lost Heiress," "The Deserted Wife," etc.

And last—not least—we are authorised to announce a series of articles from one who has rapidly risen very high in popular favor. They will be entitled

A NEW SERIES OF SKETCHES,

THE object of this tale is to exhibit in different phases, in high life and low life, the accursed effects of intemperate drinking, the bane of social life, the curse of civilized man. The characters are well and sharply drawn, and the various scenes are described with much spirit and graphic effect. *

Has so many thrilling passages and well-drawn characters, that you read it with absorbed attention. It cannot fail to achieve for Mrs. Collins an enviable popularity. She takes us with her to the drankard's home, and tells of the hunger and the fear, the toil and the suffering, that are there. She paints, with a woman's delicate skill, the meck patience, the long-abused, but unchanging love of the drunkard's wife, touches the deepest chords of the heart, and makes them vibrate with pity and with indignation. PUBLISHERS' ANNOUNCEMENT: ELEVENTH VOLUME OF THE AMERICAN AGRICULTURIST

Weekly Agricultural Paper of the Country.

THE AMERICAN AGRICULTURIST, a weekly Periodical of sixteen large quarte pages, making an anunal volume of 832 pages of nearly double the size of those in the first ten volumes of the Agriculturist.

It is beautifully printed with type cast expressly for it, and on the best of clear white paper, with wide margin, so that the numbers can be easily stitched or bound together.

A copious Index is weekly added, which will be fully amplified at the end of the year, for the bound work

A copious Index is weekly added, which will be fully amplified at the end of the year, for the bound work.

Comprehensive in its Character,

Each volume will contain all matter worth recording, which transpires either at home or abroad, and which can serve to instruct or interest the Farmor, the Planter, the Fruit-Grower, the Gardoner, and the Stock-Breeder; thus making it the most complete and useful Agricultural Publication of the day.

Correct and valuable Market Reports.

The Markets will be carefully reported, giving the actual transactions which take place from week to week, in Grain, Provisions, Cattle, &c.; thus keeping our readers constantly and reliably advised as to their interests. During the past year, the knowledge obtained from these Market Reports alone has saved our readers thousands of dollars, by informing them of the best time to sell or purchase.

Such a Paper is demanded by the Farming Community.

The publishers confidently believe that the agriculturists of this country are becoming too much awake to the demands of their own calling to be longer satisfied with the slow monthly issues of a paper professedly devoted to their interests, or to trust alone to the irresponsible extracts in a "farmer's column," so popular just now in papers chiefly devoted to business, politics, or literature; and they look for the united support of all the intelligent farmere of this country in their continued effort to furnish a weekly paper of a high and reliable character, which shall be progressive, and at the same time cautious and conservative in all its teachings.

Essentially an Agricultural Paper.

Essentially an Agricultural Paper.

The Agriculturist will not depart from its legitimate sphere to catch popular favor by lumbering up its pages, with the silly, fictitious literature, and light, miscellaneous matter of the day; it has a higher aim; and a small part only of its space will be devoted to matters not immediately pertaining to the great business of Agriculture. The household as well as the out-door work of the farm will receive a due share of attention. The humbugs and nostrums aftent in the community will be tried by reliable scientific rales, and their worthlessness exposed. It is the aim of the publishers to keep this paper under the guidance of those who will make it a standard work, which shall communicate to its readers only that which is safe and reliable.

An Independent Journal.

that which is safe and reliable.

An Independent Journal.

The American Agriculturist stands upon its own merits; and the truthfulness, real, and ability, which it brings to the support of the interests of the farmer. It is untrammeled by any collateral business connections whatever; nor is it the organ of any clique, or the puffing machine of any man or thing. Thoroughly independent in all points, its ample pages are studiously given alone to the support and improvement of the great agricultural class.

Editorial Department.

The American Agriculturist is under the editorial

chemist.

They will be assisted by Prof. Nash, who has been for a long time one of the most successful farmers of New England, and is now Agricultural Professor of Amherst College; Rev. Wm. Clift, widely known as a pleasing and instructive writer on gardening and other department of practical agriculture, and, in addition to these, a number of other eminent agricultural writers.

All the editors are men practically experienced in their profession, each of whom can handle the Plow as well as the Pen.

The American Agriculturist is supplied to regular subscribers at a cost of less than four cents a number, of sixteen large pages; and to large clubs for less than two and a half cents. Each number will contain suggestions for the treatment of soils, manues, crops, stock, &c., which will often be worth to the reader more than the cost of the paper for a year.

To olube of twenty subscribers, at $1.25 a year—$25.

The money always to accompany the names for which the paper is ordered.
The Postmaster or other person sending a club of ton will be entitled to one extra copy gratis.
The Postmaster or other person sending a club of twenty or more, will be presented with an extra copy, and also a copy of the National Magazine, Scientific American, Weekly Tribune, or Weekly Times, or any other paper or periodical in this city, not costing over two dollars per annum.

Subscriptions may be forwarded by mail, at the risk af the publishers, if enclosed and mailed in the presence of the Postmaster.

[] Communications for the paper should be addressed to the editors: subscriptions, advertisements, and all matters relating to the business department, should be addressed to the publishers.

William Jay to the author:

"Your analysis of the slave laws is very able, and your exhibition of their practical application by the Southern courts evinces great and careful research.

Your book is as impregnable against the charge of it consists of propositions and demonstrations. The

It is not often that we read a story of any kind, but we have broken our practice, and have read this book not only with pleasure, but with a gratification which but very few novels have ever afforded us. It is a quiet and simple, but still striking and effective picture of American social life.—Chicago Tribune.

THE ONLY LADY'S BOOK IN AMERICA

GODRY'S LADY'S BOOK FOR 1854 ONE HUNDRED PAGES of reading each month, by the best American authors.

* * Has sketched it in its daintiest form of fascination, as well as in its grim and dismai aspect of open degradation. Rarely has a woman ventured to hold the toreh to such a dark recess of human wee.— Daily Times.

We know of no passage, anywhere, more uniquely beautiful, more intensely absorbing, more overpowering in the pathetic, than the thirty-fourth chapter. It is indeed a gem. We doubt whether the celebrated chapter devoted to the death of Eva, in Uncle Tom's Cabin, is superior. * It is certainly the most powerful temperance tale that we have ever perused.— Journal and Messenger.

Beautifully written. * * A work of creat DRESS PATTERNS.—Infants and children's dresses, with descriptions how to make them. All kinds of CROCHET and NETTING work. New patterns for CLOAKS, MANTELETS, TALMAS, COLLARS, CHEMISETTES, UNDERSLEEVES— Beautifully written. * * * A work of great strength and power.—Gospel Herald.
